The relations between Emperor William and his mother are a good deal more than strained. his mother are a good deal more than strained. Nothing but the influence of Prince Bismarck his prevented the Emperor from summoning the Hohenzollern family council for the purpose of formally declaring that the late Emperor's will and settlements are invalid, as his state of health should have disqualified him from ascending the throne last March. This step may yet be taken unless the Empress Victoria gives up the papers which were sent to England with the Queen, and which are now understood to be deposited at Windsor. Reports from the seene of the killing say that public indignation runs high and there is talk of lynching should Brooks be caught. After a thorough examination Dr. James pronounced the trouble to be a number of fibro-cartilaginous tumors and decided to cut them out in order to save the horse. After weighing the matter for a long time the owner agreed to submit to the operation and yesterday afternoon was fixed for the work. The horse was led out of his stall, in which he had been kept for many months, and the operator prepared to begin the work. The tumors, while very large, were not of a specially dangerous character, but great care was necessary in operating, for they lay in close proximity to the jugular vein on that side and the carotid artery. TOUCHED WITH THE ENIFE
In the course of the operation the result would have been death from the loss of blood. The proximity of a large plexus of nerves also lent importance to the operation.

The surgeon prepared his instruments. They were a knife, which would have made an operator on human beings open his eyes; an artery forceps of goodly size for the vessels of a horse are very large, some single tenscull; three pairs of surgeon's solesors; a set of threaded needles of generous dimensions, and a number of other steel instruments the names of which all end in Latin or Greek terminations. A few sponges and plenty of clean water, linen and cotton completed the outil. When everything was in readiness the operator, instead of producing a chloroform pad, took a long strap and fastened it securely just above the hoof on the right leg. Then he applied what is technically called a twitch to the upper lip of the animal. After twisting the twitch tightly he placed it in the hands of one of the stable men. Then he threw the strap over the back of the horse and another attendent held it so that the leg was lifted up from the ground. The horse then stood on three legs. These were all the means used to produce anaesthesia. The idea was to render the animal powerless, at the same time engaging his attention on several centers of pain and inconvenience at the same time.

Des Moines, Io., August 8.—Suits have been commenced in Polk County District Court against the Chicago & Northwestern, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and Rock Island Railways under the damage clause of the new Lower and the Property of a Fashionable Family in the West End—Details of the Operation.

Considerable attention has been paid to Surgical operations upon the human economy and they have been described with agonizing detail. Surgical operations upon that noble animal the horse, however, are not often heard of unless perhaps the patient be a disguished runner or trotter, and then the operation has not so much concern for the general public as the condition of the animal itself. There is a vast difference between operations on man and on the horse. The surgeon who undertakes to use the knife on his felliow man has nothing to fear but the death of his patient. The laster is looked in the tenacious embrace of the anæsthetic, which does not release him until the operator has completed his work. But chioroform, while it finds as ready a response in the horse as in the man, lacks much of its effectiveness in the former, because the limp and relaxed condition of the animal to the animal does much, in certain cases, burg, a small town hear Conneaut Lake, has been commenced against the Chicago & Northwestern, Chicago & Northwestern, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and Rock Island Railways under the damage clause of the new Lowaraliways under the Camage and the Rock Island Railways under the Chicago & Northwestern, Chort of the Sur in this city of a new and extensive branch plant for the production of decorated glass, which will probably supplant the sand blast and embossing methods now in use.

The new process has been developed by an Eastern man, who has been identified with the glass industries of this city for two or three years and who will be associated with the new company as its traveling representative, while the company will be under the general management of a well-known Bostonian. Three factories will be located, and St. Louis will positively get one of them. By the new process lace curtains can apparently be imprinted in the glass in colors, black, brown or white, at option, and almost as, quickly as the glass can be handled, while steel plate engravings are reproduced practically line for line, at an almost nominal cost.

Some pressure is being brought to have the proposed St. Louis factory located in Chicago, but this city appears to be accepted as a more advantageous center. Inquiries have been made of several real estate agents for sites for the proposed factory.

A REUNION IN THE SUBURBS.

There was a union meeting of the Webster and St. Louis Societies of Christian Endeavor at the Presbyterian Church at Webster Grove last night, and in spite of the rain there was a large attendance and an interesting and pleasant meeting occurred. A special train of five coaches took out the St. Louis contingent, and every car was filled. Members rushed down to the depot during the rain, and redown to the depot during the rain, and regardless of the thunder and lightning boarded the train and went out to the gathering. There were about three hundred from 8t. Louis and one hundred from 8t. Louis and one hundred from Webster, and the pretty little church was well filled by the time the opening hymn was sung. A prayer was offered up, asking the the blessing of the Almighty and his aid in the work they have undertaken. Rev. J. H. Nixon delivered a short but very interesting address upon the subject of Christian work, encouraging the young people to earnest efforts in promoting the welfare of the church and in leading their young companions to a Christian life. On account of the shortness of time Mr. Nixon is to the regret of those who heard his discourse. minutes, much to the regreheard his discourse.

Mr. John Roth read a paper on "The Prayer Meeting Pledge," which was listened to with interest.

Miss Carrie Studley sang a vocal selection and Mr. Cotton and Mr. Walker Evans read, reports of the work of the Chicago Convention of Societies of Christian Endeavor.

After the close of the meeting the societies adjourned to the parlors of the church, where refreshments were served and a social gathering took place.

Ing took place.

The meeting was held under the direction of Mr. L. A. Biggers, the President, and Mr. Clarence Clayton was entrusted with the active management of it. A lawn party had been arranged, but the beavy rain prevented that. However, the members were all pleased with the meeting, and returned on their special train at an early hour very much gratified with the result.

BOUND FOR THE COUNTRY.

Fifteen Happy Children Sent to Busticate by the "Country Week."

Fifteen happy children boarded the cars at the Union Depot at an early hour this morning, and under the auspices of the "Country Week" were "way-billed" across the big bridge and out to the Illinois farms beyond.
Of these fourteen will have a fortnight's frolic at Morrisonville and the neighborhood, and will find out, perhaps, for the first time in their lives what real milk tastes like and how it feels to inhale air in which factory smoke plays no part. The remaining child will spend his cuting at Oakdale, and three will spend his outing at Oakdale, and three more children will on Saturday be sent to join him, while on the same day two little ones will be billed to Reno, where there are already eight others. The iongest visit ever made by any one child from St. Louis has failen to the lot of a little girl at Oakdale, who was sent there by the "Country Week' managers three years ago, and who, excepting brief trips to St. Louis to see her parents, has ever since remained. Her foster family have not adopted her, but they are quite content that she should live with them, and the country home she has found is pleasant enough. In addition to the excursions mentioned five children will leave for Holt Summit, Mo., to-morrow, and after this week the trips made will, with the approach of autumn, be less frequept and the number of little ones sent out fewer. No word has yet been received concerning the two beys at Doniphan, who were to have returned yesterday, but who took to the woods instead, yet no fears are entertained for their safety or that the robins will have to cover them with leaves. Such precoclous babes, it is thought, will be more likely to kill the robins and come out fat in the fail as a result of the diet.

The new-fledged Spartans, who, to the number of 102, lett for Sparta on Friday morning last, had a bitter experience en route, and many of them had never before felt the swing of a fast train in motion, and long before they had reached their destination grew sick as green sailors on a first voyage. The epidemic extended throughout the car-load of little coses, and the back platform and open windows were well patronized, but they stood it bravely, and are none the worse for wear.

An Alleged Steal of 40,000 Pounds of Sugar From the Brooklyn Navy.

By Telegraph to the Post-Disparch, New York, August 8.—When yesterday's session of the investigation now in progress at the Brooklyn Navy Yard was concluded, it was whispered about that a big steal had been nnearthed—the theft of 40,000 pounds of sugar. Investigators Haskell and Alden and Capt. Miller would say nothing about the master. Miller would say nothing about the matter. Rumor had it, however, that the investigation had led back to the time of General Store-keeper John Stevens, and that during his reign 40,000 pounds of sugar ordered for the use of the men employed on the Vermont and paid for had never been delivered on that vessel.

HAVLIN AND MURPHY.

THE PEATHER-WEIGHTS WILL BATTLE FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE WORLD.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.
BOSTON, Mass., August 8.—Jack Havlin, the champion feather-weight of America, and Frank Murphy, the champion of Great Britain, who fought to a draw at Peekskill on Thursday last, are again to fight for the championship of the world. Both pugllists and backers were disastisfied with the result of the battle at Peckskill and are anxious to have the matter settled. Yesterday Ed Holske, fight?" asked Holske of O'Rourke.

"In five weeks for double the amount," replied O'Bourke.

"But Havlin's friends says he is not punished any; why not have the fight come off in a week?" said Holske.

"Well," said O'Bourke, "Havlin is not punished any, but his legs are not yet all right. I would be a fool to let him fight when he has the same trouble that caused us to agree to a draw in Thursday's battle."

It was finally decided that the puglists should meet in the ring in the latter part of September to fight according to the arrangements governing the recent battle. This fight will be for $3,000 a side and a purse given by a New York club.

Since the collapse of his circus and the ruin of his financial hopes John L. Sullivan has "made a brace," and is soberer than he has been since his arrival from England. After been since his arrival from England. After working down the black eye presented him by a Boston longshoreman the ex-champion went to Nantucket and took a bath and a shave and then signed the pledge. Thursday he sent for the "Spider," who arrived Saturday, and together they are taking long walks and otherwise getting in trim for the fall campaign.

"I am done with liquor for good," said Sullivan the other day. "I fancy I can stand it as well as anybody, but I own up it has been too much for me. All the money I could rake or scrape together—some $15.000—was sunk in that circus. I am now strapped and must do some good fighting or walk on my uppers. I shall train from now until about September 1, when Mitchell and Kilrain will come over, and I'll challenge them. Ned Stokes will back me for $10,000, and I have other parties who will chip in $15,000. So I am prepared to fight one or both to a finish for a purse anywhere from $5,000 to $25,000, and the money shall be ready." "Have you any choice as to the rules of the fight?"
"Not a bit. I want it to be a fight to a finish, and then if I am whipped I will get out of the business."

year, under the four-strikes rule, things went year, under the four-strikes rule, things went well enough, but they had to make a change, though what for nobody knows. They ought to put the pitcher five feet further back. Why, under the under hand delivery the distance was forty-five feet, and it is now but five feet further back under the much swifter throw. If the distance were fifty-five feet you would find that it would be no harder upon the pitchers, while the batsmen would greatly improve in their work. They would have more time to prepare for and gauge the ball. The batsman does not have time to meet the ball at present. It is on him before he knows it. Such a rule would help the game amazingly. I don't believe that the high or low ball should be restored. It would only create trouble. It gives the pitcher too small a space to aim at and makes great trouble for the umpire. It seems that instead of trying to improve the game, its legislators actually hamper it."

At the meeting of the American Associati

The return to 25-cent base ball will be peculiarly felt and appreciated in this city. The at Philadelphia will, to use a cant expression, fill a long felt want. The proposition which was submitted by Mr. Byrne, like all propositions suggested by that gentleman, will, in a way, benefit himself more, probably, than any other man in the Association.

This proposition, which has been carried, fixes the date of the reduction at August 25, at which time the Eastern clubs return home from their Western trip. Now the Browns will play at homes a series of games with the Eastern clubs, beginning day after to-morrow at Sportsman's Park, and if Mr. Byrne's resoltion applied the 50-cent rate would be charged for these games. This is not the case, however. The patrons of Sportsman's Park will reap the benefit of the change immediately.

Beginning Friday, the general admission to the park will be 35 cents, instead of 50 cents, and the admission to the grand stand 50, instead of 75 cents. These rates will hold good until the 25th of this month, when the old prices of 25 and 50 cents will be regularly adopted. This matter was decided upon this morning by President Von der Ahe, who telegraphed from Philadelphia to that effect.

Robert Gets Overheated.

Umpire Ferguson, in relation to the enacted during Saturday's game, said: "I want to say right in the start-off that the reason want to say right in the start-off that the reason I left the grounds during the ninth inning in Saturday's game was because I became so heartily sick and disgusted with the continual kicking and wrangling of the players of both teams that I determined not to put up with it. It was not by any means on account of the actions of the spectators. I was not rattled, only disgustingly sick. These men are paid large salaries to play ball, and when they resort to the kind of work indulged in during that game, almost irom start to finish, it is, I think, time for the people who pay the money at the gate to make a kick. I want to say emphatically that the managers of the teams are even more to blame than the players and encourage them to try and 'down' the umpire and get him rattled into giving decisions in their favor, instead of trying to win the game on its merits, it can be very easily understood how little weight an umpire carries with the men themselves. I will say, though, that I consider the St. Louis aggregation by far the worst of the lot. For the past twenty-eight years I have worked to elevate the game and nothing that I can do will be left undone in that line in the future. '

Next Friday's Big Game.

The Browns and Athletics leave Philadelphis to-night and arrive in St. Louis Friday. They continue their championship series, playing the first of three games on Friday afternoon at Sportsman's Park. The interest in the championship race is greater than it has been at any time this season, and the coming games will no doubt draw immensely. The advocates of cheaper prices will have their purposes satisfied in the reduction to to cents, the old price, to the grand stand. The Browns are putting up the best game in the Association, and their work on the present Eastern trip has far excelled any record made this season. Their triends and admirers, whose name is legion, will turn out to give them a royal welcome on Friday, weather permitting. Their opponents, the Athletics, are playing at their best, and the coming conflict promises to witness the most brilliantly contested games of the season. King and Seward will, in all probability, do the pitching on Friday.

President Von der Ahe deserves a good deal of credit for forcing the admission down to 35 cents temporarily and 25 cents later on.
